Business Manager, Three Chaffey Teachers Resign

Resignation of Frank Chaffee as business manager of the Chaffey high school and junior college was accepted at the meeting of the Chaffey board of education this week. In ill health for some time and reported now to be in a serious condition, Mr. Chafiey asked to be relieved of his duties immediately. He has been unable to be at his office since the latter part of October.

Other resignations were filed and accepted, including those of Miss Mary Stempel, Frank M. Watenpaugh and Dr. Gardner L. Miller, and a leave of absence was granted Mrs. Gertrude Greenlee Quackenbush.. Dr. Miller and Mrs. Quackenbush will leave the faculty Feb. 1, start of the new school term. Their successors were named.

No immediate acton is contemplated in filling the other vacancies and it was suggested by one official that applicants refrain from beseiging the Chaffey office.

Reason for the resignation of Miss Stemple and Mr.Watenpaugh was given as a desire to retire to a less active life. Both have taught for many years.

A new policy effective June 1 requiring teachers 65 years of age to retire was adopted by the Chaffey board several months ago.

Resigning to accept a more alluring offer at U. C. L. A., Dr. Miller, French teacher, is leaving after having established quite a reputation for his ability at Chaffey. He came to the college after having attended colleges in France. His position will be filled by the advancement of Miss Katherine Hyde from the high school French department. Mrs. Philip Coke, widow of the late Mr. Coke, well known in this district, will be the new French teacher at the high school. Mr. Coke, formerly district manager of the Standard Oil Co. at Ontario, drowned recently while on a trip to Catalina Island.

Miss Frances Dundas, daughter of Mrs. Florence Dundas, Upland, was appointed to Mrs. Quackenbush's position as teacher in the girls' physical education department. She is a graduate of Chaffey junior college, Pomona college and also attended Stanford university graduate school. She is coming to Chaffey from Susanville, where she has been teaching.

Deep regret was expressed by the board members at the district's loss of those who are leaving soon and of those who will leave the faculty at the close of the school year.

EVERETT MARTIN DEPICTS GOAL IN GETTING FREEDOM

Chaffey Lecturer Declares That Three Fundamentals Are Necessary

Subtletly digging at man's desire for economic freedom; openly laughing with his audience at his attempts to gain freedom, and then swinging his listeners into a serious consideration of freedom, Everett Dean Martin was acclaimed last evening by a crowd filling the Merton E. Hill auditorium.

He was introduced by the Reverend Charles L. Knight, pastor of the Bethel Congregational church, Ontario. A theologian, sociologist and director of Cooper Union in New York City, his lecture was studded with phrases of the greater thinkers since the beginning of culture by Aristotle.

"The essence of freedom is to be and think differently than everybody," he stated in definition of liberty. 'But you can't get freedom by going back to nature. The savages have no personal, political or economic freedom, for each thinks, acts and talks exactly like the other members of his tribe."

In further condemnation of the back-to-nature movement, which started with the romantic schools of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the speaker quoted that "nature was a war of all against all; the rabbit must avoid the coyote to remain alive; the coyote must kill the rabbit to remain alive." In quoting Thomas Hobbs, he said, "Freedom is not a gift of nature; we become free only under law."

"Neither can science give us freedom," Dr. Martin stated. "True, it can aid, but we need more than science. For science can not know individuals, qualities or purposes, and the more you introduce science the more do you ignore those three."

Nor can the problem be solved by a planned society, the speaker explained, for that is what is happening today in Europe. In their struggle to get economic liberty, man is losing his personal and his political liberty.

"Freedom will come through three things, and America bases her democracy upon them: a reality of individualists, a moral passion for individualism gained through the English - Protestant reformation and a revival of learning. Those are our cultural inheritance.

"Wherever men have struggled during the past 300 years to find liberty," Dr. Martin concluded, "it is British - American freedom that has inspired them. Wherever limited powers—bills of rights—freedom of speech — religious freedom goes, progress goes with them. For American liberty depends not on demigods, not on fantastic ideas, not on science, but on men and women, and so it always has."

The third lecturer to speak in the religion and philosophy series of lectures will be Lewis Browne, who will discuss the question of "Are We Returnng to Barbarism?" Mr. Brown, educated as a rabbi, is particularly well known as the author of "This Believing World." He is also the author of "That Man Heine," "Blessed Spinosa" and others. Mr. Browne will give his address next Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

GRIER'S RELIEF BILL PRESENTED

Legislators Get Proposal to Eliminate Duplication In Relief

State legislators today received the proposal to eliminate duplication in the handling of relief in California, C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, having assisted in the final preparation of the proposal. Mr. Grier has addressed local audiences on the proposal, which is designed to reduce welfare costs.

Duplication by the SRA and the state department of social welfare would be eliminated under the bill, which would consolidate them into one permanent authority to care for all forms of relief to the needy. The proposal is based on the assumption that the emergency phases of relief have given way to permanent requirements for consolidation of indigent and unemployment cases into one blanket form of administration.

A conference of leaders in the State Supervisors association was held in San Francisco this week, looking to submission of the proposal. Slight changes were made in the proposal at the conference but in general the bill carries the same provisions as discussed here by Mr. Grier.

Boys From Japan Enroll at Chaffey, Coming From Orient

Chaffey high school and Japan are closely linked with the attendance on the campus of two boys who have just arrived from the Orient. Their father, R. F. Van Brunt, has spent many years in America as a buyer for Oriental concerns.

The students are Herbert, 17, a junior, and Frederick, 15, a freshman.

Cultural advantages of the Chaffey district attracted the father in picking one of many schools available. He also was attracted to this district by the fine citrus groves and he has purchased a small orange grove in the district.

City Planners Will Meet at Later Date

Upland city planning commission did not meet last night, as scheduled.

Up for consideration was to have been request to have the ornamental trees removed from Mountain avenue. Another petition opposing removal of the trees had been filed with the group.

The meeting will be held in the near future, probably when all danger of feeezing weather is past.

Income Tax Expert Will Be Here to Aid In Making Reports

To assist people in the Upland district in preparation of their 1936 income tax preparations, a representative of the internal revenue department will be at the Upland chamber of commerce office Feb. 15, 16, 17 and 18.

It is an annual custom of a representative of the department to come here and many people are expected to take advantage of his services. The official will assist in compilation of the figures and he will also receive payment of the tax if the people want to pay at that time.

Following the election and installation of officers, reports from the various officers were received. As many people wonder just what the Red Cross funds are used for the report given below will be of interest. A little more than $100 a month is available for the work of the chapter during the ensuing year. Considering that such funds can be used for emergencies, disaster

GROWERS ADVISED AGAINST PRUNING CITRUS TREES NOW

Results in Local Groves in 1922 Demonstrate Advantage In Waiting

PHOTOGRAPHED AT TIME

Plots With No Pruning Back Recovered Most Rapidly, Says Wilder

One of the grave problems confronting some citrus growers of this and other communities is: To prune or not to prune.

County Farm Adviser H. J. Wilder comes forth with this advice: "Do not prune trees because they are frosted."

Mr. Wilder further says: "It is impossible to tell before next summer how far back on the injured twigs cuts should be made. Hence, any attempt to prune off twigs apparently dead will almost certainly result in lessening the life leaf area. The larger the total leaf area, the more quickly will the trees recover. So don't be worried about a few dead leaves on the outside of the trees. Neither about any small twigs killed back by the frost. They will have mostly disappeared by mid-summer without any labor expense for pruning. Besides, new leaves will spring out on wood that at first has turned brown and may appear to be dead."

These statements are based on results from plots established by the Agricultural Extension Service, and the Farm Bureau citrus growers following the freeze of 1922. These plots were in the lemon grove of the late E. H. Richardson on East Ninth street, Upland, the orange grove of George A. Klusman on Foothill boulevard, Cucamonga, and others. Mr. Schoonover designed the comparative pruning plan. These plots included trees with no pruning, light pruning, and moderately heavy pruning, the last being the more commonly advocated at the time. Those with no pruning back recovered most rapidly, the light pruning next, and the heavier pruned trees the slowest.

Demonstration Home Started on Red Hill

N. A. Niswander began excavation this morning on a lot on Red Hill Estates and will construct thereon an electric demonstration home. Location of the home will be east of Red Hill Country club and fronting on the county road traversing that area. H. F. Naisbitt, owner of Red Hill Estates, states that the residence is being constructed under auspices of the Southern California Edison Co.

Mr. Niswander is his own contractor and the house will contain eight rooms and will have stucco finish. It will have complete electric equipment, including heat. When completed, it will be open for inspection and will be for sale.

Mr. Naisbitt states that another "all-electric" home will soon be erected on Foothill boulevard in the vicinity of the country club.

Smudge Cleaning Methods Of Upland Women Listed

How's the smudge coming off? It is—and it isn't. At least that's the answer given by housewives of the Upland district as they tell their pet methods in removing it and what progress they have experienced.

Apparently Miss Linda Schmidt was having but very little difficulty in removng smudge.

"We use soap and water and rub fairly hard," she explained. "If you are cleaning something from which you don't want the paint removed, use only a small amount of soap and don't rub so hard. I understand there are some commercial products especially for removing smudge. I imagine they would be fairly good."

Mrs. Paul Fetrow more or less concurred in the idea that smudge should not be touched for a week, during which time oil leaves. "Then it is easier to clean off the woodwork, walls, etc." She said that a soap and water solution with a "small amount of cleaning solvent on a wet rag" gets it off pretty good.

A water softener, plenty of it, water and elbow grease was the formula given by Mrs. Francis Rogers.

ZONE LAW WILL BE AIRED AT HEARING

Placing of Service Station at Euclid and Foothill Is Sought

Shall business be permitted on Euclid avenue at Foothill boulevard?

That question will be discussed at a public hearing in the Upland city council chambers Thursday night. Formal request for a change in the zoning law to permit placing of a service station at the southeast corner of the intersection has been filed. Filing of the request automatically made it mandatory on the part of the city council to call a public hearing.

Hale P. Powers and Philip B. White are owners of the property, commonly referred to as the "Strong property." If permission can be obtained to place a station there the two local men have an opportunity to lease the corner to a large oil company which would beautify the business property.

Entrance of business enterprises on the avenue has been sought for many years. With each request for placing business on the avenue there have been strong protests. A large delegation opposing the placing of a service station at the intersection is anticipated at the council meeting.

Business is permitted on Foothill some distance away from Euclid but in accordance with the zoning ordinance no commercial enterprises are allowed on the avenue.

HEIGHTS LEAGUE PICKS COMMITTEES

Russian Conditions Described In Address by Rev. John P. Mandtler

Appointment of committees and an address on conditions in Russia featured last night's meeting of the San Antonio Heights Community league. The speaker was Rev. John P. Mandtler, pastor of the Upland Nazarene church, he being born in Russia.

Dr. Charles B. Taylor, president, listed the following as chairmen of the various committees: H. G. Koster, finance; A. W. Benson, promotion and improvement; John Boyd, membership, and Mrs. Chas. B. Taylor, program.

Nearly 30 persons who were present are more convinced than ever that America is a wonderful nation, Rev. Mandtler graphically telling of conditions in Russia when he resided there. His father was executed for disobeying officials and the speaker told of conditions bringing about his death. He told of farming and economic conditions and of the general effort to make the state all powerful in controling humans.

NEW GYM WILL BE OPENED NEXT WEEK

Chaffey, Pomona Cagers Will Battle in League Game To Open Structure

Chaffey and Pomona high school basketball teams will formally open the new Chaffey gymnasium in a game next Friday.

Although it will be impossible for workmen to complete the music building and gymnasium before the game on January 22, work on the floor and bleachers is being rushed and the building will be ready to handle a crowd which, it is expected, will be the largest in the history of basketball at Chaffey high school.

Much material from the former gym has gone into the new building. The flooring in the new building is the same as that used in the old structure but it has been sanded and refinished and is in excellent condition. Half of the bleachers were also moved from the old gymnasium to the new building.

The new music building, which will house quarters for the music and athletic departments of the high school and junior college, is being constructed as a $100,000 WPA project. Considerable work remains to be done on the structure, particularly on the music building and the training quarters.

The external beauty of the structure became apparent this week when workmen finished the work on the front of the building. It harmonizes with the women's gymnasium and with the other new buildings on the campus.

TIME WILL BRING AUDITORIUM START

Chaffey Project Virtually Certain When Details Are Finished, Is Word

It will be only a matter of time—but nothing was said about how long—until actual work can be started in the construction of the new Chaffey auditorium, PWA officials told two Chaffey officials in Los Angeles yesterday. In th meantime preparation of the detailed building plans is progressing.

Gardiner W. Spring, Chaffey president, and N. E. Trautman, chairman of the board's building committee, conferred with PWA officials on the building situation. It was again pointed out that the project has been given approval by President Roosevelt and that actual construction awaits appropriation and allocation of PWA funds.

As the project was approved after a comparatively short wait, so will the remainder of the ocatails be completed in the course of coming weeks. At least this assurance was emphatically given the two school officials.

Future work on other Chaffey buildings was considered at the Chaffey board of education meeting Tuesday night. Razing of the science building is proposed in the 1936-37 budget but due to a WPA change in the amount to be paid by the sponsor, advisability of a delay on the board's part was discussed.

The general building program on the Chaffey campus was reviewed at the board meeting. A warm welcome to membership on the board was extended to Jack Bailey, Fontana, who succeeds R. S. Barbee, also of Fontana, who recently resigned.

Citrus Picking Is Scheduled To Start On Big Scale Soon

Picking of oranges on a large schedule may start next week if a survey among the orchards of the district reveals enough fruit in the proper condition.

Delayed early in the year by rain and stopped last week by low temperatures pickers have been idle for nearly two weeks. Frozen fruit will become quite clearly evident by Monday or Tuesday, citrus officials said. Indications now point to the possibility of extensive picking throughout the district.

Temperatures are predicted for tonight and the week end at about the same as last night's mark. Some orchard heating occurred early today but the firing was confined to the coldest areas.

U. S. weather bureau gave its prediction as folows: "Fair tonight and Saturday. Continued cool with little change in temperatures. Local frost, gentle to moderate winds, mostly southwest."

R. J. Rogers, local U. S. weather bureau official, said there was a slight possibility of more rain.

Optimism is evident among many growers of the Upland, Alta Loma and Cucamonga districts. They admit some of the fruit is ruined, which will mean a decrease in shipments but the decreased shipments may more than compensate for the loss by higher prices.

Hundreds of employes, those regularly living here and those who come here only for the fruit picking and packing season, are losing through inability to get work. Many of them, however, were employed in the four days and nights of firing over last week end.

50 Women Unite For Meetings of Church Societies

Fifty women enjoyed the luncheon served Thursday noon between the sessions of the three Methodist church societies who held an all-day meeting at the church. The Eastside circle was in general charge of the luncheon.

Meeting at 10:00 a. m. the Foreign Missionary group enjoyed a review of another chapter from their study book by Mrs. W. F. Kitchell. This session was followed at 11 o'clock by the Ladies Aid who held a regular business meeting with Mrs. L. E. Moser presiding.

"Preface to Racial Understanding" was interestingly reviewed by Mrs. Marian Cochran before the Home Missionary group which met following the luncheon. Special music was provided by Mrs. Lewis Jenison and Mrs. Ralph Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Fannie Gay. They sang "He Knows."

During the business session Mrs. Louise Wilson, president, announced the "Day of World's Prayer" to be held on Feb. 12 and for which plans are being made by the group. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Fannie Gay, and Mrs. Frank Buffington, as program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Paul P. Shultz of Detroit, Mich., was a special guest and spoke briefly.

GYPSIES ATTACK WPA WORKER BUT HE FREES HIMSELF

Ontario Resident Answers Plea For Help and Two Women, One Man Grab Him

ALTA LOMA IS SCENE

Group Active in Various Parts In Community as Calls Are Made

In answer to a woman's frantic appeal for help, Ray Gilmore, Ontario, WPA worker, stopped his car on Sixteenth street near Alta Loma at noon today only to be roughly handled by a gypsy man and two women.

He was driving west on Sixteenth when he approached a parked car. As he passed the woman earnestly motioned to him to stop. A man was slumped in the car as though ill and in need of attention. Thirty feet west of the parked car he came to a stop and the woman ran screaming toward him. She tightly grabbed two fingers of the man's hand and exclaimed: "We want to tell your fortune—do you have any money?"

Realizing the incident was a hoax, Mr. Gilmore fought off his attackers, the man and woman in the car coming to the assistance of the gypsy woman. Mr. Gilmore yelled and freed himself from the clutches of the gypsies. He ran back to his car and speeded away. Ontario police were notified and the report was broadcast.

The gypsies were driving a nearly new Ford sedan.

The group have been reportedly "working" in this district for several weeks, centering their actions in Alta Loma. Chief of Police E. C. Mehl of Upland said that officers in the district are on the trail of the trio.

Only last week end in Alta Loma Levin Lanzorotti lost $20 to a gypsy woman after she had called at his residence asking for a donation.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst.—John 4:14.

The Battle of the Smudge Pots

The battle is over—and to a very large extent it has been won.

We do not refer to any bloody warfare in which hundreds or thousands were maimed and killed—we refer to the battle of the smudge pots. And the object was quite different than that of blood and carnage. It was a battle to save the citrus crop in California's choicest citrus district—and that means in the whole world. Just how successful it has been will not be known for some days yet, we are told. It cost several hundred thousand dollars to wage the battle—but it is hoped and expected that it saved much more than that in citrus crops.

We may dignify it by calling it "firing"—but the fact still remains that to a very large degree it still is best expressed by that disagreeable and nasty word of "smudge." But by what ever name it is called, it was an unavoidable necessity if the crop was going to be saved. It was enjoyed no more by those who own citrus groves than by those who do not—all suffered the unpleasantness to the same extent. And all were cheerful about it—knowing it could not be avoided.

The trouble started Thursday night of last week, when heating in many groves was necessary. For three nights following this district experienced the lowest temperatures since 1922—and a record was established for early lighting of the pots when on two evenings firing began at six o'clock or earlier. During those nights the mercury reached the low point of 22 degrees in some places in the district. That meant firing—steady firing and heating to the capacity of the equipment. It also meant a steady grind during night and day for several days by many hundreds of people. It was uncomfortable—and added to the cold was a grimy, black dirtiness that was inescapable. The dirty soot penetrated through clothes and blackened the skin—it was impossible to keep it out of the homes. It worked its way through windows and doors where there was no apparent space for it to do so. It formed in "cobwebs" on the walls and ceilings—there was nothing in the house one could touch without being "smeared" with the oily dirt. It worked its way into drawers and closets and blackened wearing apparel. No matter what one touched, the hands soon became grimy with the black stuff.

Late in the morning the dense, black smoke made it necessary to drive with automobile headlights turned on. In order to read electric lights had to be turned on in the homes. It was a black, dirty darkness that none enjoyed. Trucks loaded with oil were numerous on the streets—supply tanks had to be filled and so did the fuel in the fire pots have to be replenished for each night's firing. Those out in the open for any length of time became black as the "smudge" fell on them.

It was nasty and uncomfortable. And yet through it all there was a cheerfulness on the part of all as they realized it was inevitable. Those hundreds who labored so faithfully and willingly—many of whom did not "have off their boots" or go to bed for two days and nights—are given highest praise by all. In a number of instances there were women who served in one way or another—and some business men who looked after their own affairs during the day spent the night on the job in the grove of a friend or neighbor helping in the battle to save the citrus crop.

All this sounds quite dramatic—and it was a dramatic battle. But now it is all over. The unpleasantness will soon be forgotten—and we who experienced it will be "bragging" for years as we tell of the "terrible freeze of 1937." We can now compete with those who brag about what this district "went through" in the "big freezes" of 1913 and 1922. However, there are some who have experienced all three of those record breakers.

And in spite of it all—there is still no other place to compare with Southern California as a place in which to live. Occurrences such as we have just experienced occur at such distant periods that they cause us to appreciate what we have in the way of climate and surroundings—and impress upon us how fortunate we are to be living here. There has been some loss—probably considerable—but it is indeed small when compared with what others have experienced in many parts of the country. California still remains as near the ideal spot in which to live as can be found on the face of the globe. No doubt we who have lived elsewhere appreciate that fact more than do the native sons and daughters.

Among the notable persons killed in air crashes the past few weeks who meant much to their line of endeavor is Martin Johnson, who with his wife has explored many of the jungles of the world and was a man of scientific attainments. Not only this, but the Johnsons have done much to inform the general public of their outstanding accomplishments—by means of lectures, pictures and writing. Only a few months ago they returned from the wilds of Borneo, having spent about eighteen months there and bringing back thousands of feet of valuable film of life and scenes of many kinds. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were dated for an illustrated lecture at Claremont this afternoon—and many from Upland and vicinity were planning to attend. Owning two planes of their own, they had flown them many thousands of miles in the wild regions they visited without serious mishap—but the fate of the husband was to meet death in a commercial airplane crash in their home land. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, previous to their last trip, had been in Borneo two years, in the South Sea Islands twelve years and in Africa about six years. The sponsor of most of their later explorations was the American Museum of Natural History, New York, which is the repository of the Johnsons' scientific records and where also is their series of unsurpassed exhibits of wild life. It is sincerely hoped that Mrs. Johnson will later resume the lecture tour which has had to be canceled because of her husband's tragic and untimely death.

And again we say—as we have said before about kidnapers who mutilate their victims as they did the little Mattson boy—the same kind of treatment they gave their victims would be none too good for those demons in human form who commit such atrocities. It will take drastic treatment to rid the country of such killers.

Those persons who delight in talking about their appendicitis operations will have to be still when they come in contact with the woman who was sawed in two by a magician.

—o—

The reason some don't succeed is not because they do not have opportunities come to them—but because they do not recognize an opportunity when it shows up.

The Thrust of Loneliness

I cannot bear to think your love, like wind
Across a sea of desert sand, must blow
To shores not mine; that your love can be thinned
To threads of ardor; rather would I know
Its depths lay yet unplumbed that I might feel,
Unmoved, the passing tempest and the snow
That beat upon my heart with thunderous peal
Crushing a tender love like mine for you.

Comfort

Go forth, Beloved, and cease to weep,
And find repose on the Plains of Sleep;
Be brave, Beloved, and welcome sorrow,
For by it's scars you'll be strong tomorrow;
Close your tired eyes and reposeful lay
And night will take your burdens away;
Awaken, Love, for day is near,
The night has stolen each grief and fear.

—Grace Phillips

Were my love cased in walls of armored steel,
I know it still must answer when you sue!
But can walls be impervious to the thrust
Of loneliness that blends the bitter rue
With honey to preserve its tip from rust,
And slowly venoms all with fear's distrust?

"Ladies of the Press" by Ishbel Ross

The newspaper profession has long been the objective of ambitious young women; it has been regarded as a romantic chance to see life, a golden opportunity to work on a par with men, a way to experience excitement, thrills, adventure.

Not all of these advantages have been accorded those women who have made a name for themselves, or even a niche for themselves in this the most exacting of careers. Grudgingly have a few been allowed to work their way to "front-page" rank, but for the most part, the women who are to be found on the newspaper staff find themselves in the field in which they excel, the feature writer, the Sunday magazine section, the book supplement, the woman's page, clubs and social news gatherer.

The newspaper profession has come a long way to allow these fields to become indispensable to the newspaper-reading public. "Ladies of the Press" is not alone a history of the profession, it is a source of information.

Today, every large newspaper in the country has its staff of women writers, but this is a situation which did not come about by accident. It is a tribute to persuasive zeal of a few valiant women. This is largely why Miss Ross has written such a book, which is in itself a tangible acknowledgment that these women should be given credit for their remarkable contribution to this field.

The author has explored every section of the country and every phase of newspaper writing in which women engage. She is concerned with the past as well as the present. She explains to the beginner the hazards of a fascinating work. And throughout the narrative she has included brisk thumbnail biographies of all the women who have made an important contribution to newspaper writing in this country. Such names as Margaret Fuller, Kate Field, Eleanor Medill Patterson, Ruth Finney, Dorothy Thompson, Dorothy Dix and Winfred Black are among those included.

Miss Ross herself is a newspaper woman and a novelist. Her own career began in 1917 when she was given a place on the staff of the Toronto Daily News. From 1919 to 1933 she was a member of the editorial staff of the New York Herald Tribune. Some of the news stories she was assigned to cover were the Stillman divorce, the death of Edison, the King of Siam's visit, and the Lindbergh kidnapping.

In the foreword by Stanley Walker, former city editor of the New York Herald Tribune, Miss Ross is described by him as the almost perfect newspaper woman with but two flaws: (1) "She was inclined to regard life as a fairly serious business, and never laughed enough, and (2) she was lacking in venom."

On the whole, this new addition to the collection of the Upland public library will prove to be a valuable, enlightening and amusing book.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT"

You know I bane goin' home from work other night and I see car what have tail lights way up high on the back end. I tank that ban fine idea. Maybe I write letter to state capitol and tell them about it. Maybe be good plan for all cars to carry lights high. Some drivers need all help they can get. Cars need more and higher lights.

I remember they used to call some people in the churches, "leading lights." I don't tank it bane cause they make the way brighter, maybe yust cause they bane little higher than some others. Then they was some people always "lookin' for a place to light." Seems like they go up in the air lot too. Quite a lot of fellers, I remember, used to be always "lit up," Some people not like this class so well.

Now we have lots o' red lights and green lights. They are to help the drivers too. Lot o' drivers have trouble telling which light is on. Some times a traffic cop shows them which light was on. That not bane so good. It cost them money after the cop tell them. Many fellows carry a red light on the end of nose. It don't make way brighter. It give any light. Lots of tings need "more light." They call that "light on the subject." Edison gave the world more light than any one else. He deserves lots o' credit. What yau tank?

Monte Carlo Ballet In Brilliant Event At Claremont Soon

The Monte Carlo Ballet Russe, world's foremost ballet troupe, will be presented at Bridges auditorium, Claremont, Thursday evening, Jan. 21, in one of its most brilliant programs.

The ballet numbers 100 dancers and musicians, travels in its own special train of eleven cars, carries scenery for 25 different ballets and 6,000 costumes and has its own symphony orchestra. Last season the American people paid $1,000,000 to see it, on its coast to coast tour, exceeding by hundreds of thousands of dollars the record of any touring organization.

Opening the season with ten days at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City, the Ballet Russe this year will be seen in 100 cities, appearing only in major centers of the United States.

The ballet was founded by Colonel W. de Basil, possessor of twenty-one military decorations, who has given up war for art. It brings the traditional beauty and vigor of the Russian Imperial Ballet, uniting dance, music, drama and painting into a colorful spectacle. Distinctive lighting, costuming, scenery and music combine to present some of the greatest dancers of the day in their most gorgeous setting. Every ballet tells a story as clearly and interestingly as a Broadway play.

The ballet is being presented under the auspices of the committee on auditorium events of Claremont colleges. Reservations and inquiries are being addressed to Harper Hall, Claremont.

CHOIR TO ATTEND MUSIC CONFERENCE

A Cappella Chosen to Represent Southern California at Music School

Selected to represent Southern California, the Chaffey junior college a cappella choir will appear before the annual convention of the California-Western School of Music conference to be held in San Francisco, March 21 to 24. It is one of three choirs to be chosen.

S. Earle Blakeslee, director of the choir, is an officer of California Western School of Music and will preside during the first general session. The choir will appear on Monday, March 22. The trip was granted to the choir by the board of education and Gardiner W. Spring, superintendent.

In speaking of the selection of the Chaffey choir, Mr. Blakeslee said: "We are deeply appreciative of the honor of representing Chaffey and Southern California and the responsibility of such representation The choir has worked conscientiously and has attained a high degree of excellence."

The convention is held in an effort to advance musical education and to have the best ideas of music leaders represented.

Theaters, Programs For Week In Valley Given Review Here

Upland Theatre Offers Film Attraction

Upland theatre has as one of its aims "bringing to Upland the best in pictures" and that this is being fulfiled is shown in the week end program. Manager Herb Adams and Charles Gage are energetic in their efforts to give this city's film house outstanding attractions.

For tonight and tomorrow the program will include Lawrence Tibbitts in "Under Your Spell" and Clair Trevor in "15 Maiden Lane."

Recognizing the fact that these pictures have been shown elsewhere, the theatre manager points out it is impossible to obtain the films earlier due to rigid restrctions governing releases in the smaller cities.

"We still maintain, however," Adams said, "that the pictures are here. People can always depend on seeing the 'headline' films here. That is true now and it always will be true as long as the proper effort is made."

Opening a three-day run Sunday will be Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea in "Banjo on My Knee," and Kathryn Hepburn in "A Woman Rebels."

"Big" Pictures Offered Granada Followers

"Now, I tell you, never before have we had so many 'big' pictures 'breaking' here in such rapid succession," Manager Jack Anderson, of the Granada theatre, characteristically said.

"Take for example, 'After the Thin Man'—and let me tell you this, everyone should see 'In His Steps,' the Ontario city councilman and ex-auto dealer continued. He explained that "In His Steps" is being shown for the last times at the Granada tonight.

Every week emphasis could be placed on the Granada's film bill, according to the theatre staff members. But they all joined in boosting the current program and the pictures scheduled for the week end and next week.

On the closing bill tonight besides "In His Steps" is "More Than a Secretary." Opening a four-day run Saturday are "After the Thin Man" and "King of Hockey"—and "what a show," Mr. Anderson concluded.

Broadway Stage Comedy At Fox Pomona

As a Broadway stage show, "Three Men on a Horse" proved to be one of the funniest comedies ever produced and it certainly loses nothing in the picture version. Opening today at the Fox Pomona theatre, "Three Men on a Horse" stars Frank McHugh as "Oiwin," the greeting card poet whose unconscious technique in tabbing fast horses made him famous. Joan Blondell, Guy Kibbee and Allen Jenkins are prominent in the cast.

The preview feature brings Micheal Whalen and Rochelle Hudson in "Woman Wise."

World War Seen As Probability By Speakers

Three popular local speakers presented their views of the world's effort to find peace when they spoke before the Junior High Parent-Teacher association Tuesday afternoon, in the school library. Mrs. H. J. Stickney, president, conducted the brief business session.

Mrs. Hjalmer Anderson, program chairman, introduced the speakers, Mrs. A. R. Kipp, the Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the Mennonite church, and the Rev. Chas. Knight, pastor of the Ontario Congregational church. A trio of teachers consisting of Miss Adelaide Locher, Miss Evelyn Cross and Miss Elizabeth Hudson, accompanied by Miss Alma Stone, pianist, sang two numbers, "Whispering Hope" and "Irish Hills."

Mrs. Kipp, who has made a study of international relations, told of her attendance at the "Institute of World Affairs" at Riverside and of the opinion of those speakers of the inevitability of another war. She stressed the point that in the future we must demonstrate a new kind of patriotism, that of neutrality. "We must unite the various American republics and to do this it is imperative to understand them and get their point of view," the speaker stated.

Rev. Hostetler discussed the historic peace churches and told of their beliefs concerning war and peace. "These churches, the Brethren, Friends, and Mennonites, believe in a higher law," he said, "than that of earthly rulers, and therefore feel that they cannot support wars between nations." These denominations are willing to support any political group working toward peace, he explained, and they are sponsoring their own emergency peace plan. This consists of speakers who lecture throughout the country preparing the people physically and psychologically for a certain type of action if war does come.

Rev. Knight, the final speaker, gave his impressions of the countries that he visited while in Europe last summer and of the probability of immediate war between the major nations. "The people don't want war," he stated. "The rulers are anxious to achieve certain ends without recourse to war, and due to financial conditions war will probably not come before five years."

CITRUS PICKING IS BEING DELAYED

Local Officials and Growers Cooperate To Keep Frozen Fruit Off Market

Every legal precaution is being taken in the Upland district to prevent marketing of oranges and lemons that are frozen. J. Fred Anderson, Upland, and Rollin R. McKennet, Cucamonga, who are deputy horticultural commissioners, are checking all fruit. Growers are also cooperating with authorities to maintain a high quality standard.

Very little picking of fruit has occurred this month with the resultant idleness in orange packing houses. Lemons, in storage, are being packed to meet the market demand.

While growers are waiting evidences of frost among their heavily loaded orange trees, they are also keeping an eye on the possibility of further low temperatures. Prospect now, however, is for favorable weather conditions.

Shipments of fruit will be reduced from 15 to 25 per cent as the result of the damage in the four-day cold spell beginning Jan. 7, according to reports of Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. He qualified his estimate by saying it is more or less of a guess "and it will be several weeks before a reasonably accurate figure can be determined due to wide variations in temperatures and durations in different districts."

The state department of agriculture is making every effort to police the situation in such a way that frosted fruit will not be placed on the market to lower returns for the crop and to the injury of California's reputation.

As definite symptoms of frost take time to develop, the department, is was understood, has made a ruling that samples be held until Monday from cars of fruit about which there can be any doubt and the cars allowed to go forward at the risk of the shipper. At the end of five days, should the samples show that the fruit will not meet the requirements of the law then steps will be taken to prosecute. After January 18 the regular tests will apply. As an additional precaution, federal inspectors in the markets of delivery are being notified by the state authorities to be on the watch for cars under suspicion. Furthermore, inspection stations are being opened at various points to take care of the truck movement.

Firing of orchards was the most extensive ever practiced, sometimes beginning early in the evening and lasting all through the night until late in the morning. The Supply Company of the Exchange worked day and night to see that oil was available to every Exchange grower who needed it. Organization counts at all times, but in such emergencies as this, it is indispensable.

Assuming, as is probable, that the storage facilities for oil in the producing districts were well filled, there were moved for replacement alone for Exchange growers during the four day period 879 tank cars of oil, or approximately 10,000,000 gallons, and 339 truck and trailer loads approximating 1,800,000 gallons—nearly 12,000,000 gallons in all—with f. o. b. refinery value around $400,000. Every resource at the command of the citrus industry was put forth to protect the crop.

LUBRICATION SIMPLIFIED

Have a close look at the lubrication chart of your new car. It should be patent at once that it is rather a more complicated job than in the past, with a wider variety of lubricants and equipment needed than ever before. As a finer machine than its predecessor, it simply is inevitable that this should be the case.

Unless the owner is one of those who likes to tinker with the car, a study of its lubrication requirements will make it manifest at once that it is a pretty hard job to compete with the lubrication specialist these days. The professional has all the advantages on his side, including that of low cost.

Oscar P. Campbell Funeral Services Tuesday Afternoon

The death of Oscar P. Campbell, which occurred last Saturday shortly after he was taken to San Antonio Community hospital, was a great shock to his relatives and many friends. He lived a quiet life and spent much time reading and trying to help his fellowmen. He had many friends and his passing is mourned by many.

The remains were laid to rest Tuesday afternoon in Bellevue cemetery, services being conducted by C. D. Swallow, Christian Science reader. Mrs. Princess Long sang at Draper funeral parlors. The pall-bearers were: Luther Davis, Frank Lyons, Charles Wolfe, A. T. Chambers, Loyd Harris and A. E. McGinnis, all from Liberty Groves, Inc.

California History

History of California counties is of interest to many and another installment in the series is published here.

San Mateo County

Created April 19, 1856. This county bears the Spanish name of Saint Matthew, "the gift of Jehovah."

This county is one of the most beautiful in the United States. It is small, embracing only 447 square miles. Within this area are flowers valped in the millions, an untold wealth of shrubs and plant life, magnificent homes, charming scenery and four great highways.

The leading flower markets of the world are Covent Gardens in London, Chicago and San Francisco, but the greatest of these in point of distribution to other centers, is San Francisco. San Mateo contributes 80 per cent of the regional shipments in the floral industry. Great fields of chrysanthemums and asters require 300 acres, while 50 acres are devoted to the violet. A total of 110 acres of various flowers are under glass. One greenhouse has driveways enabling the motorist to drive through, among hundreds of thousands of rose bushes. One dahlia farm ships bulbs to remote parts of the world.

Truck gardening is a thriving industry in a county that is a section of beautiful homes and gardens rather than agricultural fields. More than 10,000 acres are planted to vegetables. San Mateo's most important minerals are cement, stone and salt, the latter derived from evaporation of the waters of San Francisco bay.

Notwithstanding San Mateo's small area, there are more than 250 miles of concrete highway, over 100 miles of graded road and 80 miles of ungraded road. The state now is building a new highway along the route of the old Ocean Shore Railroad. Burlingame, San Mateo, Hillsborough, Menlo Park and Woodside abound with costly homes. The entire county is scenically attractive particularly the La Honda canyon of redwoods, South San Francisco.

MISS HAZEL ROSE,

FAMOUS BEAUTY SPECIALIST, COMING HERE

Monday For Six Days!

Miss Rose, beauty authority, will give complimentary consultations including facial and make-up.

THIS VALUABLE SERVICE BY APPOINTMENT ONLY!

Phone Mac's Drug Store—318-111—between 12 noon and 5 p. m. only. Ask for lady handling appointments.

The visit of Miss Rose is an event of keen interest to women here who are always interested in attaining the smart appearance so typical of the women of our community.

She comes through the courtesy of this store direct from the laboratories of M. Langlois, world-renowned authority on beauty and charm. She has been trained by M Langlois himself in the art of teaching new methods of cultivating loveliness right in one's own home.

Miss Rose, in talking about her mission here, says, "We believe that every woman has a loveliest self . . . the self that looks out from her mirror when she is happy, thrilled, enthusiastic about life, and confident that the impression she is making is a charming one.

"Sometimes this 'loveliest self' is uppermost in a woman's appearance; sometimes it is neglected and she is far less lovely than she need be.

"It is my keenest desire to help the ladies of Upland to bring out and develop this perhaps latent loveliness. Not through a miracle but through sound, common sense principles underlying daily skin care!

"I want to devote 45 minutes to discussing with each woman who comes to me her own skin condition and problems . . . . to giving her a restful facial followed by an individualized make-up that will minimize any imperfections of feature or complexion and accent every beauty.

"I use only M. Langlois' famous Cara Nome Beauty Creations because I have found them the purest, finest and most effective obtainable.

"There is no charge for this consultation. Mac's have personally engaged me to give this free service as a courtesy to their customers and friends."

Miss Rose will really help women to attain the new beauty demanded today.

This valuable service by appointment only and only at the time reserved for you. Please be prompt, perhaps ahead of time, so as not to encroach on the following appointment. We can accommodate perhaps but one-tenth of the applications for the highly trained lady's services.

This is not a sales demonstration. We are not interested in selling you beauty merchandise at this time. We are interested in giving the patrons of our toilet goods department the highest type of skin and beauty service. Listen carefully to her tips on appearance and charm. Your half hour of private interview and special service will be instructive, beneficial and pleasureable.

Women who have used these famous Cara Nome beauty creations are usually the first applicants for the service.

Edison Co. Service Records in New High Peak Now, Is Report

Service records of the Southern California Edison Co. reached all-time highs during 1936, according to Frank L. Allen, local manager of the company, who attended the recent annual meeting of Edison officers, department heads and managers in Los Angeles. Harry J. Bauer, president; W. C. Mullendore, executive vice-president, and Fred B. Lewis, vice-president and general manager, addressed the meeting. Mr. Lewis was chairman of the annual session.

Plans for increased company activities in 1937, calling for the expenditure of a capital budget of $6,500,000 were announced by Mr. Lewis. A large portion of the budget, which is $4,000,000 greater than that of the previous year, will be expended for the construction of a transmission line to bring the Edison company's share of Boulder dam power into Edison territory. Construction will be started within a month or two, and the line will be completed in July, 1938.

"The number of active meters on the Edison system marks a new high record," Mr. Allen said. "The total at the close of the year was 189,000, a gain of 16,500 for 1936. The number of idle meters on the system is now at the lowest point of record."

VALUABLE DECORATION

Not like the laurel wreath of Roman play days which was so quickly wilted by the Italian sun, is the Sesame Seed we use to decorate several of our loaves. It is more akin to the jewels that embellish the watch given by the swain to his "one and only," for it has a real value.

There is iron in bread. Sesame seed is an excellent source of phosphorous, without which the body cannot assimilate all the iron. It makes a loaf of bread look appetizing, but it also imparts an essential mineral element to it. So when you eat MEYER'S SESAME DECORATED BREAD you find pleasure in eating that which is truly good for you.

HOOP TITLE AT STAKE TONIGHT

Chaffey and Redlands Meet in Crucial Game—Panthers Play Riverside

While the hoop season is just getting nicely started, championship of the Citrus Belt league may be decided in Redlands tonight when Chaffey and Redlands high schools meet. The two teams are considered among the best in the circuit and the loser will have difficulty in overcoming the defeat when the final ratings are computed.

Based on performances so far this season Chaffey is expected to nose out the opponents. On the other hand, Redlands has won the C. B. L. title for two years and three of the 1936 champions are on the team in tonight's game. Both teams have wins over San Bernardino in league competition and both of the C. B. L. quintets have lost to Redondo Beach in pre-season conflicts.

Another important game for Chaffey followers is the court mix at Riverside between the Panthers and Riverside jaysee. Defeated by San Bernardino Wednesday night, 43 to 35, the Panthers are given an even chance to turn back Riverside. The game was originally scheduled for the Chaffey floor. Inasmuch as the gym here is not finished the battle was switched to the county seat of the neighboring county.

The Panthers are not rated as high in the junior college as are the Tigers in the prep conference. Nevertheless Coach Mitchell's squad is expected to rank near the topp when the suits are turned in.

Weeks was high point man for the Panthers in the San Bernardino game, he counting for 11 points. Bill Walk, center last year and switched to guard this year, tossed in three points. Other Panther players and their scoring record follows: Rothrock, forward, 6; Vegel, center, 4; Hunt, guard, 0; Harris, H. Smith, 1; Wallace, 2; B. Smith, 8, the latter four players being substitutes.

Scheduled to start for Chaffey in the high school game tonight are Tucker, Olinger, Hannar Poindexter and Rodriguez, junior members of the varsity squad. Senior varsity members are Doll, center; White and DeVore, forwards; Foote and Smith, guards.

Etiwanda Driver Is Exonerated in Crash Resulting in Death

John Francisco, Etiwanda, was exonerated from any blame in the fatal auto accident on Foothill boulevard east of Cucamonga Sunday in an inquest Tuesday afternoon. Charles King, 14 years of age, Los Angeles, was killed in the accident.

Francisco was the driver of a truck which was going west. The youth's father was driver of the car that figured in the accident with the truck. An inquest jury in the J. B. Draper & Co. mortuary here returned a verdict of accidental death.

SOCIAL DISEASE PERIL IS CITED

Dr. Abbott Tells Lions of Toll Among Innocent Victims

Reduction in the spread of infectious social diseases was the object of an earnest plea at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club house at noon yesterday.

Dr. F. F. Abbott told of the toll taken among innocent victims and of the apathy on the part of legislators, most physicians and the general public. When people think of people having the common contagious diseases there is no thought of immorality and no such thought should be connected with persons having syphilis, Dr. Abbott declared.

He declared the "mess" should be cleaned up. Then he explained the disease may be obtained through contacts among children at play on the school ground and among adults in every day business relations. He emphasized that no stigma should be placed on a person with a social disease. He appealed for open discussion of the subject and the same frankness of consideration given it as is given to other diseases.

He painted a dark picture for the victims, innocent and otherwise. He described the pain and suffering and of the terrible toll the disease takes in human degradation. Among many other figures, Dr Abbott quoted those showing that approximately 20 per cent of the patients at the Patton state hospital are afflicted with a social disease.

"I am talking about something that concerns your own family, your own children, your neighbors and your friends," Dr. Abbott contended in his sincere manner. "What are you going to do about it?"

An association for the prevention of the spread of social diseases has just been organized in Southern California. It will seek to spread information about the disease and endeavor to bring about a united campaign of education and legislation. He asked that the club and other citizens subscribe to the movement.

"If there were the proper organization, laws and sufficient money to strictly enforce them this disease could be wiped off the continent," he declared. He pointed out that at least one million new cases were developed during 1935, in declaring the cost of prevention would be small compared with the cost of suffering and loss of life.

In this county, the speaker said, a small effort is being made to cope with the situation. Lack of funds, proper law enforcement and apathy on the part of the public are preventing a general program of checking spread of the disease.

Harold W. Cook was program chairman, with E. C. Rosenberger, president, in charge.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

P.-T. A. To Meet Tuesday

The Alta Loma P.-T. A. meeting will be held on Tuesday, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Joe Crick, president. The regular meeting was postponed.

Miss Leora McVey of the fourth and fifth grade pupils will be in charge of the program, which will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m., and which will feature a cowboy radio broadcast presented by her pupils. A motion picture will also be shown.

Mrs. H. W. Minor and Mrs. J. A. Brant, room mothers, will act as co-hostesses for the tea which will be served following the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. V. O'Neill have moved to Cucamonga from San Bernardino. They are residing at 375 East Foothill boulevard. Other new Cucamonga residents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sanders, who are at 238 West San Bernardino road. They moved here from their former residence adjacent to the mountains north of Alta Loma.

Two Cucamonga residents were injured, one of them being arrested for reckless driving in an accident on Valley boulevard, east of Ontario Wednesday night. Buena Nolan suffered scalp lacerations and thigh fracture and Albert D. Rosa, driver of the car in which she was a passenger, suffered minor head injuries. He was arrested for crashing into a car driven by Thomas A. Blakely, San Bernardino. Rosa was taken to the San Antonio Community hospital and Miss Nolan was taken to the county hospital.

Etiwanda

ETIWANDA, Jan. 15.—Because of the pressure of work incidental to the recent smudging season, the Etiwanda Service club called off its monthly meeting which was scheduled for Wednesday evening.

Guy Way, of Benton, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Allen. Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Ensley and son, Ted, of San Bernardino, were dinner guests at the Allen home Sunday evening. Thursday night they entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Lytle Williamson and sons, Darrell and Richard, of Cucamonga.

The annual Ladies' Aid birthday party will be held in the church basement this evening under the auspices of the first section of the society.

This is one of the special occasions anticipated by women of the community to which all are invited and asked to bring a penny for each year of their age. This section is also selling family tickets to the Orange show and would appreciate having all purchases made through them.

Etiwanda grammar school reopened Tuesday after several days vacation caused by failure of the school heating system.

Mrs. Walter Barnes went to San Bernardino Monday to see her sister, Mrs. C. H. Jones, who recently injured her knee and is compelled to keep it in a cast.

Eleanor Werner left yesterday for Berkeley, where she will reenter University of California, after spending the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Werner.

The Rev. Harold V. Hartshorn, pastor of the Etiwanda Congregational church, will speak Sunday on "Candles of the Lord." Music will be presented by the women's choir. Sunday school and young people's services will be held at the regular hour.

SMUDGE CLEANING METHODS OFFERED

Local Women Tell of Pet Ways In Removing Oily Coat From Homes

success in using a vaccuum cleaner in removing some smudge from the walls. For the woodwork she recommended a strong solution of suds, "plenty of clean rags and lots of elbow grease." About the rugs, she said that rags, wet with a cleaning solvent had "remarkably taken off the smudge."

Mrs. W. R. Farmer believes it best not to start cleaning too soon. "Over our floor furnace the smudge easily came off the walls because of the heat drying it out," she explained. "I believe if people just wait until the oil evaporates it is better." A prepared cleaner-paste is the best to use in cleaning off the woodwork, she said.

Mrs. C. O. Deverts offered the suggestion that a solution of vinegar and coal oil be used. "So far it has cleaned the smudge off the painted woodwork wonderfully," she added. 'The vinegar and coal oil solution is the only thing I know of."

Mrs. Merton E. Hill believes "it pays not to clean it off too soon." Then the use of some standard cleaner is goo.

Mrs. L. E. Kronmeyer is using a gasoline cleaner, wiping the woodwork afterwards.

Mrs. A. J. Colgan believes coal oil in a little clear water cuts the oil better than anything else. She uses no soap in this solution and she strongly recommends it. "I also use quite a bit of gasoline in cleaning but one has to be very careful because it is so inflammable," she added.

Mrs. Stella Breffle said that never before has there been smudge in her house. "Somehow, it just escaped us before—and I was not prepared for it this time," she said. Under these circumstances she said she was at a loss in knowing jut how to clean up.

For cleaning windows and screens turn the hose on them and then use a broom, Mrs. B. P. Swartzendruber said, she being successful in this way of ridding the house of the orchard heater smoke.

Mrs. Chester A. Fisk suggested a commercial product for cleaning walls, pianos, of highly polished furniture. Careful following of the directions will result in a successful renovation of the premises, she said.

Etiwandan Suffers Leg Fracture in Crash

Norris Gorman suffered a fractured leg in an accident late yesterday afternoon. He is an Etiwanda resident.

Theaters, Programs For Week In Valley Given Review Here

Carl Sandburg Praises Padua Theatre

Carl Sandburg, world famed poet, troubadour and folk-lorist, was most enthusiastic in his praise of the work of the Padua Mexican Players in their comedy, "It Rained in Ixtlan del Rio," when he visited the Padua Hills theatre last week. Mr. Sandburg was particularly interested in the Padua production because of its spontaneity and true folk quality. That he is an authority on this subject is proven by his volume, "The American Songbag" which he compiled after years of travel, collecting ballads and singing folk songs.

A TIP ON TIRES

Recent racing experience provides the reflective motorist with an excellent idea in connection with keeping his car in a safe condition.

Almost without exception those who have sought glory and records in automobiles recently, both in this country and abroad, have found that engines and other units of the car show less strain than tires; in other words, are less prone to give trouble under conditions of unusual strain.

It is a good point to bear in mind when you are considering a high speed journey on tires that already have seen considerable service.

State Picnics

Illinois

The annual winter picnic under auspices of the Illinois association will be held Saturday, Jan. 23, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. Each one of the 102 counties will establish its own headquarters and will open registers. Hot coffee will be served. A program of music and addresses will follow the basket dinner hour. The "Suckers" are urged to go early and carry basket picnic dinners. All Illinoisans, resident or visiting, are urged to attend and a special call is always made to tourists and visitors to meet friends this way.
